

Get connected, grow your business

With Priva's Open Platform

To control your crop in the most efficient way possible, we believe we can help you best by providing a complete solution. That's why we've built a future-proof platform that connects our robust climate computers, water systems and control technology with smart online applications. We continue to invest in the development of both hardware and controls as well as in new online applications and digital services.

But it doesn't stop there. We actively look for skilled partners that match our vision and way of working to team-up with. We connect them to our platform to help you with every challenge you may have as a grower.

V1_October 2020